

CLOZS

handmade in New York
travel friendly

INFINITY HOOD SCARFWRAP

the wrap that converts to a scarf and hood

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Small folding, NO WRINKLE wrap covers the arm for air conditioning, or is a layered piece for the rest of the year, like a cardigan. SMALL length covers the arm, MEDIUM length is low hip and LONG LENGTH is tunic length. *cotton blends, are machine wash, gentle cycle, tumble dry low, remove promptly

How to wear

1. Find the seam. Place seam at center back of neck.
 2. Pull the fabric down on the sides to cover arms.
 3. Arrange the front as you would like it.
 4. Fix the back if it needs fixing. Most people like the point to be center back for the longest coverage
- NOTE: Pulling a little extra fabric onto shoulders creates more fullness in the chest area and centers wrap closer into the body.

Reversible wrap can be worn front or back. RIGHT: SMALL length from front, SMALL length from back, MEDIUM length worn with flip in back, LEFT: LONG length shown from front

How to convert to scarf or hood

1. Gather up fabric and place on shoulders.
2. Twist and place over head so that you have a double loop on your neck.
3. Arrange fabric for looks as a scarf. Tuck in point or place it back, side or front, as style options.
4. Pull up fabric onto head as hood. Tighten around neck if needed.

ABOVE: step 1, 2 and 3, RIGHT: hood

Other favorite multiuses

SHRUG place arms in opening, LONG LENGTH

BREAST FEEDING hold baby in arm

WARM-UP place arm in opening of wrap and pull up opposite side onto shoulders

DRESSY swing up side of fabric and secure with broach so that fabric folds mimic a drape

Folding directions

Hold the one seam with both hands. Extend hand along the fabric where the fabric is continuous until fabric folds flat. Should fold to fit sandwich bag.

Double click here to add text.

folded in half >

< point

< seam >